

Disclosure statement for the paper

“The long-run effects of R&D place-based policies: Evidence from Russian Science Cities”

Paolo Zacchia

Florence (Italy); May 20th 2021

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Over the last three years, I have received compensation (in excess of ten thousand U.S. dollars) for holding academic positions at the IMT School for Advanced Studies of Lucca, Italy as well as at CERGE at Charles University, Prague, Czech Republic. Aside from the standard expectation that an academic researcher has to produce quality research, this has not exerted any factual influence upon the work that has resulted in this paper.
